Mission Sunday

This weekend we celebrate Mission Sunday. For us in Ireland, this is a day to remember all those who left Irish shores to bring the Good News of God's love to people in faraway lands. Many of these died young. There are few Irish families who do, or did not have a missionary priest, religious or lay person among their members. They gave their lives to proclaim through word and action the Good News of God's reign of peace, justice, and right relations to peoples everywhere. Irish missionaries abroad are fewer in number nowadays, but this work continues, and it is helped through the prayer and support of each of us. World Mission Sunday collection supports missionary activity in over 1,100 dioceses in places ravaged by poverty, conflict and insecurity. To help, please use the envelope provided in your packet or use one of the special envelopes at the church doors, provided by Missio Ireland. Thank you.

Marriage

Congratulations and best wishes to Sean Mullervy, Derawley and Nicola Clarke, Rathcline who were married last weekend.

Who Will Go?

Who will go and preach God's Holy Word,
To the many souls who have never heard?

Who will go forth sowing and weeping?
For there will be souls for the reaping.

Who will go to the next door neighbour,
To tell them about Jesus Christ, their Saviour?

Who will go to help those in need?
Whether poor or rich, who will plant the seed?

Who will go to the regions beyond you,
To share the Gospel, whether to many or few?

Who will go to a foreign field,
Where souls of the Harvest are ready to yield?

Who will go? God asks the question.
Here am I, send me. Go without hesitation.
