I See His Blood Upon The Rose

*I see his blood upon the rose
And in the stars the glory of his eyes,
His body gleams amid eternal snows,
His tears fall from the skies.*

*I see his face in every flower;
The thunder and the singing of the birds
Are but his voice-and carved by his power
Rocks are his written words.*

*All pathways by his feet are worn,
His strong heart stirs the ever-beating sea,
His crown of thorns is twined with every thorn,
His cross is every tree.*

'I See His Blood Upon the Rose' is a poem in the mystical tradition, expressing the intensity of Plunkett's Christian faith. These simple verses testify to the presence of the divine in the world, reading in nature the iconography of the crucifixion. At the centre of the poem lies the conviction that Christ's suffering will never be forgotten, as long as God's word remains the bedrock of existence.

Easter Blessings

I take this opportunity to wish all parishioners, others who pray with us and all those who tune in to our Parish Web or Facebook a very blessed and peaceful Easter. I'm forever grateful to the many people who were actively involved in our Holy Week ceremonies. It was uplifting to see such large gatherings at our various celebrations. Praise the Lord for such faithfulness and witness. I welcome all who are home on holidays and pray that this will be a truly blessed time for you and your families. For many of you the past couple of years has been difficult due to the Covid-19 and some of you may still be a little anxious or nervous about gathering in crowds. However, I am inviting you to trust in the Lord Jesus at this special time in our faith journey. We miss your presence and we are less a community when you are absent. For those who have got away from the 'habit' of going to Mass or Church, I invite you to re-join our faith families, if not every Sunday, at least on a regular basis. The 'grace and peace of the Lord' can be found in a very deep and profound way when you enter our churches and have a 'chat' or just to listen as God speaks to the inner depths of our being. If you are carrying 'burdens' relating to Church or in your relationships why not come and lay them at the foot of the Cross and experience the peace and healing that is offered there. As we welcome our new shepherd, bishop-elect Fr. Paul Connell, we pray that this will be a time of great renewal and growth in our Diocese. Wishing you all a very happy Easter. Fáilte agus beannacht Dé oraih.
